Dear Mr. Madsen

I wanted to write and tell you what a tremendous product I think Fossil Shell Flour is.

I was first introduced to Fossil Shell Flour through a distributor of it, Mr. Dee Glines. I have been using this product for approximately six months now and the great differences I have witnessed are wonderful.

I own and raise Appaloosa horses for my own pleasure. After using Fossil Shell Flour for only a few days my first observation was the great emission of worms from these horses. After a few weeks my horses started to take on a general shininess and appeared to have a better all-around appearance and better physical fitness.

I found right from the very beginning that my horses liked the Fossil Shell Flour and never tried to leave it in their feed bins.

In the past few weeks, twelve friends who are horse owners, have started on this product and there are more waiting to try it. I personally think it is the greatest thing to come into the livestock world and your other products are equally as good in their respective areas.

Sincerely yours,

Stuart Sprouse
